Client Account Interest Rate and Financial Compensation Policy

1. Background and reason for Policy

The Solicitors Accounts Rules 2011 require our Firm to have a Policy that is fair and reasonable for both the Client and the Firm in respect of interest that is payable. The Solicitors Act 1974 permits Solicitors Firms to retain any interest earned on Client account held in a Client account over and above that which is required to be paid in accordance with the Solicitors Accounts Rules 2011.

Where money is held in Client account interest must be accounted to the Client when it is fair and reasonable to do so in all the circumstances. Solicitors firms must have a written Policy on the payment of interest and this Policy is the current Policy of QualitySolicitors Martin Tolhurst LLP.

2. The Terms of the Policy.

When we receive monies on behalf of a Client it would be paid into a general Client account that we hold with National Westminster Bank plc, part of the RBS Group. This general Client Bank Account will hold all Client account monies held by the Firm on behalf of its Clients. These funds are held on the basis that they are instantly accessible in order to facilitate a transaction or payment for a Client or in respect of a Client matter. Our general Client account monies are held with National Westminster Bank plc in an instant access deposit account. Clients are unlikely to receive as much interest as they might have obtained had they held and invested the money themselves.

Interest will only be paid on cleared funds. Routinely the Bank takes 4 or 5 working days to clear cheques that we receive. Interest is not at any time payable on uncleared funds.

The rate of interest paid to Clients on money held in the general Client account will relate to the National Westminster Bank plc.'s published rate on deposit accounts. The rate of interest to be paid to Clients money as at the 31st March 2011, and until further notice, is 0.1%, being 0.3% below the National Westminster Bank plc current rate of interest.

We will not account to a Client for any interest in the following situations:-

- If the amount of interest calculated is £20 or less.
- Monies are held for the payment of professional disbursement if the person to whom the money is owed has requested a delay in settlement.
- An advance from us into our general Client account to fund the payment on your behalf in excess of funds already held for you in that account.
- If there is a specific agreement to Contract out the provisions of this interest Policy.

Notwithstanding the above if we hold money for you in our general Client account then we will account to you for a sum in lieu of interest. We will only account to you if the total interest on the funds that we have held intermittently on your behalf in our general Client account exceeds £20. The Firm takes the view that any amount below £20 is reasonable retained by the Firm to cover the administrative costs of dealing with Client funds. Interest is paid by National Westminster Bank plc to the Firm on the aggregate of all Client money held in our general Client account and, subject to any interest paid to Clients as above, is for the benefit of the Firm and levels of interest received are taken into account when setting our charging rates.

If it is apparent that we will hold a significant sum of money (in excess of £50,000) for a period of at least one month or more then we can either retain the monies in our general Client account but pay to you a rate of interest that is 0.3% above our general Client account rate of interest as detailed in above (0.1%) – this makes a total of 0.4%. Alternatively, if you as a Client request, we can transfer the monies into a separately designated Client account on your behalf which will attract the rate of interest that is given at that time by the Bank and will account to you for all of the interest earned from that account.

Special rates are applicable for Probate transactions. On monies held in Probate matters we will pay 0.15% as the general rate of interest of balances between £1 to £50,000 and 0.35% on monies held over £50,000.

We will calculate and pay interest once your matter has been concluded. Payments on account of interest whilst money continues to be held, will not be made.

We will review interest rates quarterly and apply a rate that we believe reflects the market rate of interest paid on an instance access current account offered by a UK High Street Bank over the period when interest is due. We will update this Policy quarterly with the appropriate rate of interest.

When a payment of interest is due to a Client we will consider the period between the date when relevant funds were received by us (and cleared) in our account and the date when the funds are spent. We wish to pay interest to Clients where it is fair and reasonable to do so and this Policy seeks to achieve that objective.

3. Financial Services Compensation Scheme.

If the Bank in which the Firm holds funds should fail we reserve the right to disclose to the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS) the names and other details of Clients whose money is held there in order for those Clients to claim compensation up to the applicable limit, currently £85,000. The Firm will not be liable for any excess over the current FSCS limit. We will not be liable to you or any Third Party for any loss or damage suffered as a result of any act, omission, fraud, delay, negligence, insolvency or default of any Bank, Financial Institution, clearing or payment system nor that of the Directors, Offices, Employees, Agents or representatives of any of the foregoing.

If you believe that interest is due and has not been paid, or that the amount of interest paid to you is insufficient then you should ask for the matter to be reviewed by the Complaints Partner, Jane Williams whose details are jwilliams@martintolhurst.co.uk; 61b Station Road, Longfield, Dartford, Kent DA3 7QA; Tel: 01474 706168.
